Additional and Enhanced Practice Authorization Application Guide

What Are Additional and Enhanced Practice Authorizations?

Enhanced practice refers to practice that requires technologists to perform restricted activities that are not authorized for the member's area of practice in which they are registered. An example of this would be a technologist who is practicing in the area of PET/CT. This role requires the technologist to be authorized in restricted activities from both nuclear medicine (PET) and radiological (CT) specialties.

Additional authorizations differ from enhanced practice in that the additional competencies or restricted activities are included in the specialty's section of the regulation. You may apply for an additional authorization upon successful completion of advanced training approved by Council.

A complete list of additional and enhanced practice authorizations that are available to regulated members can be found on the College website.

In order to be authorized, a regulated member must complete an application process, which includes providing evidence of having completed a Council approved training program. When all requirements have been satisfied, the member receives notification from the Registrar that the authorization has been approved and accordingly indicated on the College register. Medical radiation technologists (MRTs) and electroneurophysiology technologists (ENPs) are required to provide evidence of competence as part of renewing or reinstating their practice permits.

With a view to protecting the public served by our members, the College is charged with maintaining a live member register on its website. Any member of the public can verify members' registration statuses and their approved authorizations through this online register or by contacting the College.

As members of a self-regulated profession, MRTs and ENPs are responsible for ensuring that their authorizations are approved by the College prior to practice. Unauthorized practice can be considered grounds for unprofessional conduct and those regulated members can be subject to the disciplinary process.

When a completed application has been received and approved, the College will indicate a 'condition of practice' on the member's practice permit indicating the authorization. Regulated members that hold additional or enhanced practice authorizations on their practice permits are required to verify maintenance of competence upon renewal each year.

What is the Authorization Process?

- Complete an approved training program for the authorization for which you wish to apply. Please see the College website at www.acmdtt.com for Council approved programs.
- Apply to the College by emailing, faxing or mailing a completed Additional and Enhanced Practice Authorization Application; you must provide evidence of completing the training program.
- Once your application is approved, you will receive notification from the College that you now hold the authorization and it is on your practice permit. Remember that you must hold the authorization on your practice permit before you commence practice.
- You must renew your authorizations during annual registration renewal and/or upon changing your status from an associate to a full practice permit. Email, fax or mail a completed Additional and Enhanced Practice Authorization Application (leave section four blank) in order to renew your authorizations.
